When the going gets tough, you go to SCC

There is no regulatory challenge too great for our experts to master, and none too small to be met with their fullest efforts. While giving up isn't part of SCC's vocabulary, multidisciplinary certainly is, and in three decades, our experts have never missed a deadline, even when dealing with most complex regulatory issues.

Privately owned, independent and neutral

We are a privately owned, independent and neutral consulting company with an extensive global network but no commercial ties to contract research organisations.

Our expertise

SCC has an outstanding history of achievement in the registration of agrochemicals and biopesticides. We have defended more than 75 chemical and biological active substances under Directive 91/414/EEC and Regulation (EC) 1107/2009 and obtained more than 500 national registrations for biological and chemical products. In the field of biopesticides, we can now look back on more than two decades of experience, and we offer equally skilled support for the registration of biostimulants and fertilisers.

On behalf of the chemical industry, we have successfully filed more than 250 lead dossiers under REACH, and have extensive experience in managing consortia and SIEFs or representing individual members of these. We also register chemicals at international level, working with local specialists in our Asia-Pacific focus region and maintaining our own liaison office in Japan, while also serving clients in the US and Canada.
